About Gardens by the Bay

An integral part of Singapore’s “City in a Garden” vision, Gardens by the Bay is a national garden for the people of Singapore, as well as a premier horticultural attraction and an iconic addition to the world’s collection of the best public gardens.

Gardens by the Bay is a showpiece of horticulture and garden artistry that presents the plant kingdom in a whole new way, entertaining while educating visitors with plants seldom seen in Singapore. Among the key highlights are two award-winning cooled conservatories, the Flower Dome and Cloud Forest, that showcase more than 2000 plant species from some of the most highly threatened environments. These include the Mediterranean and semi-arid subtropical regions of the world, as well as tropical montane forests. Through these plant displays, the Gardens hopes to promote awareness of the wonders of nature, the value of plants to mankind and the importance of conserving natural environments.

Introduction

As I continue to explore botanical life I have come to better understand the crucial role that plants play in the existence of all life forms on Earth. Nature has provided every possible resource, allowing for creations that expand and enhance our experience of life. On the other hand, these finite resources, if abused, can give rise to unimaginable suffering and destruction. Ultimately, the opportunities are open to us to decide which path we want to create.
